

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

SALKHI PETROLEUM, INC., et al.,

Plaintiffs,

No. 24-03711 WHA

v.

NATIONWIDE MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY,

Defendant.

ORDER ADOPTING STIPULATED PROTECTIVE ORDER (WITH CONDITIONS)

Parties jointly ask the Court to enter their agreed protective order (see Dkt. No. 28).

Their stipulated protective order (ibid.) is hereby ENTERED, subject to the following:

1. The parties must make a good-faith determination that any information designated as confidential truly warrants protection under Rule 26(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Designations of material as confidential must be narrowly tailored to include only material for which there is good cause. A pattern of over-designation may lead to an order un-designating all or most materials on a wholesale basis.

2. To be treated as confidential, any materials filed with the Court must be lodged by filing an administrative motion to seal in compliance with Civil Local Rule 79-5. Each substantive filing to be sealed thus requires a separate, contemporaneous administrative filing to seek such sealing; blanket prospective authorizations are no longer allowed. Please limit

1 your requests for sealing to those narrowly tailored portions of materials for which good cause
2 or compelling reason to seal exists (see infra).

3 3. In the lodged filing, please submit not only those portions you propose to seal but
4 your entire substantive filing, highlighting or otherwise clearly marking therein what you
5 propose to seal. Same goes for chambers copies. And, in the public filing, please again
6 represent everything in some fashion: any unredacted portions, any redacted portions, and any 7 slipsheets needed (the last representing any documents to be sealed in entirety, though such 8 sealing is rarely warranted). Complying with this paragraph limits the puzzling that court
9 personnel, parties, and public must otherwise do to respond to your filings (as to their merits
10 and as to their sealing). Please note that, although chambers copies should clearly designate 11 which portions are confidential, chambers copies with confidential materials will be handled
12 like all other chambers copies and typically will be recycled, not shredded.

13 4. In addition to the requirements of Civil Local Rule 79-5 and other governing law,
14 only for the most compelling reason will the Court grant any sealing request covering
15 information that relates to potential hazards to the health, safety, or well-being of the public.
16 Therefore, when anyone seeks to seal or redact anything filed with the Court, the request must 17 specifically draw attention to any proposed sealing or redaction that implicates such concerns.

18 5. In Kamakana v. City and County of Honolulu, 447 F.3d 1172, 1179 (9th Cir.
19 2006), the Ninth Circuit held that more than good cause — indeed, “compelling reasons” — is 20 required to seal documents used in dispositive motions, just as more than good cause would be 21 needed to justify closing a courtroom during trial. Otherwise, public access to the work of the 22 courts would be unduly compromised. Therefore, no request for a sealing order will be
23 allowed on summary judgment motions (or other dispositive motions) unless the proponent
24 first shows a “compelling reason,” a standard substantially higher than “good cause.” This will 25 be true regardless of any stipulation by the parties. Counsel are warned that most summary
26 judgment motions and supporting material should be completely open to public view. Only 27 social security numbers, names of juveniles, home addresses and phone numbers, and trade
28 secrets of a compelling nature (like the recipe for Coca Cola, for example) will suffice for

1 redacting or sealing such submissions. If the courtroom would not be closed for the 2 information to be discussed, neither should any summary judgment filings or proceedings,
3 which are, in effect, substitutes for trial. Motions in limine are also part of trial and must
4 likewise be laid bare absent compelling reasons. See also Ctr. for Auto Safety v. Chrysler
5 Grp., LLC, 809 F.3d 1092, 1098 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 580 U.S. 815 (2016). Please comply
6 fully. Noncompliant submissions risk being stricken in entirety.

7 6. Any confidential materials used openly in court hearings or trial will not be 8 treated in any special manner absent further order. This includes source code.

9 7. This order does not preclude any party from moving to undesignate information
10 or documents that have been designated.

11 8. The Court will retain jurisdiction over disputes arising from the protective order
12 for only NINETY DAYS after final termination of the action.

14 IT IS SO ORDERED.
